Midwest Specialty Grains Conference and Trade Show
9:00 a.m. – 10:45 a.m.
More than 100 companies interested in exhibiting, sponsoring and attending the 2009 Midwest Specialty Grains Conference and Trade Show to Sioux Falls, South Dakota — a major regional export processing entity and U.S. and progressive agriculture market-serving region’s Midwest specialty grains conference.

An outstanding conference program is planned, to complement a full array of trade show exhibits including leading companies that export grains, supply the industry, and far transport grain to our valued end-users worldwide.

We look forward to meeting and having from attending industry leaders from Taiwan, Japan, Korea and other nations who are seeking to source high quality grain. We look forward to hearing from government officials and top officials in the trade show arena.

We'll have program presentations highlighting our role in the international, freight logistics and shipping in overall and will add another keynote speakers from our National Federation of Farmers’ Cooperative, to advance this important field of development for American agriculture.
